12 Described As Bad Security Risks Still On U. N. Payroll

28 Americans Were Fired. Senate Told

New York (A) - Senate probers were told yesterday the State Department labeled 40 Americans bad security risks in the United Nations but 12 still are on the job.

John D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state for U. N. affairs, testified the U. N. dropped 28 employes after his department questioned their loyalty. The U. N. has admited firing only 18.

He refused to name any of the 40 cases publicly, saying the mat-ter was confidential between the State Department and the U. N.

"So that approximately 12 reported by the State Department to the U. N. adversely-who because of security reasons you telt ought not to remain on the U. N payroll-are still there?" asked Sen. O'Conor (D-Md).

"Correct," replied Hickerson.

Sen. O'Conor, who yesterday re newed open hearings by the Mcto him "very shocking."

"It does to me, too," agreed Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), sitting with O'Conor in the inquiry into subversion among American U. N.

Accordingly, the Roman pontiff ordered an investigation by St. Cyril to determine the day and month of Christ's birth. Pope Julius I, after great deliberation, established December 25 as Christmas beginning in the year 350 A.D.

Foremost sacred symbol of the American Christmas, the creche or lowly manger of the Christ Child, reminds us that on December 25 we are celebrating a birthday. This year, instead of being the generally imagined 1,952nd birthday of the Saviour, is most likely

Roman records tell us it was in the year 4 B.C. that Caesar Augustus decreed the whole world should be taxed. Hence it was in that year, rather than in 1 AD. when Joseph and Mary went to Bethlehem and Christ was born

It is no secret that the magnificent new General Hospital in East Stroudsburg probably would not have been a present-day adjunct to the county had it not been for Mr. Gillam's untiring work

He has, too, had a large part in the raising of funds and the preparation of plans for a new Young Men's Christian Association building here in Stroudsburg, work on the construction of which is expected to get under way in the

There is hardly a civic project of any magnitude in which the name Gillam is not associated. Yet his hat has never stretched beyond its normal proportions through all of these years in which he has been so definitely a part of

But a man's efforts for his community can go about so long when the time comes for his friends and admirers to do something about it. Tuesday night's affair at the Penn Stroud Hotel was the climax of well laid plans to bring out in the open the unselfish values added to the Monroe County area over Mr. Gillam's twenty-five years residence here.

The Daily Record joins with the entire community in hailing Clifford R. Gillam as the area's Number One Citizen.

Penna. Leads in Industrial Expansion

New proof that the industrial capacity of Pennsylvania is expanding more rapidly than that of any other part of our country is provided, the State Planning Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce points out, by the Annual Survey of Manufactures recently released by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. According to that report based on a nation-wide survey, the total of industrial expenditures for buildings, machinery and equipment in Pennsylvania in the year 1951 was greater than that in any other state. This survey indicates that our Commonwealth has maintained the national leadership in industrial expansion recorded by the U.S. Census of Manufactures in 1947.

Perhaps even more significant than the record of ex- age next month. pansion of all the State's industries, both old and new, is the Census report on the construction and equipment of new manufacturing plants, or the renovation and equipment of plants which had not been in operation at any time during 1951. In Pennsylvania those expenditures were also the largest in the Nation and represented 28% of the National investment in new or revived enterprises.

The lecturer finished his travelogue with a heartfelt sigh "Yes, ladies, there are some spectacles one never forgets!" A lady in the third row interrupted suddenly with, "Will you tell me where I can get a pair? I'm always losing mine."

The difference between amnesia and magnesia, points out a reader who identifies himself as fommy Burns, 11, is that the fellow with amnesia doesn't know where he's going and doesn't have to run.

Back from his first day at school, young Gerald assured his mother, "I sure did learn something today. Every other kid in the class gets a quarter a week allowance."

Morey Amsterdam says he knows a panhandler who's gotten 30 days so often they're naming a month after him.

Life of Riley By JIM RILEY Sports Editor

East Stroudsburg High School opened its basketball campaign on Tuesday, and although the Cavaliers finished on the short end of a 55-47 count against Phillipsburg. I don't believe anyone connected with the team has to bow his head over the loss. It was evident as early as last June that East Stroudsburg would face a difficult task of replacing players like Ray Steele, Jack Tredinnick and Paul "Candy" Miller, who formed the backbone of the 1951-1952 club.

However, from the angle from which I watched Tuesday's game, I believe the Cavaliers are going to present a team this season that will give the home town fans plenty to cheer about, even though there is little hope that the charges of Coach Dick Forster will win the Lehigh-Northampton League title. The club has plenty of hustle and determination, although its shooting ability left plenty to be desired against Phillipsburg. The Cavaliers moved the ball well in spots and certainly brought forth hope in every ference in the two teams on Tuesday was the fact the Phillipsburg and the Garnet was taking part making their initial start in the 1952-1953 season. The East Strouds-Dick Newton, Jim Fritz, Bill Penlarly good to this writer. This lineup features three seniors, sopohmore and a junior.

Fred "Benny" Leonard, former Pen Argyl football coach who is now the Phillipsburg basketball mentor, failed to appear at the N. Courtland St. gym with his team on Tuesday, as per schedule. Leonard was reportedly unable to make the trip with his club because of a serious back injury. Harry Bellis, Phillipsburg's assistant eage mentor, handled the varsity against the Cavaliers. The win was the first rolled up by Phillipsburg in three outings, with Stroudsburg listed as the fourth foe tomorrow, on the Stroudsburg court.

Many followers of the Stroudsburg cage machine are more than slightly upset that the Mountaineers have lost their first two games. However, as in the case of East Stroudsburg, I don't believe the situation is as hopeless as it appears on the surface, but again like East Stroudsburg, I doubt very much if even the most loyal supporter can hold any title hopes for the Mountaineeds, as far as the Lehigh Valley League is concerned. Stroudsburg is currently operating without Bill Bailey and Karl Weingartner, who in this writer's humble opinion form the backbone of the Stroudsburg club.

The word making the rounds is that both Bailey and Weingartner will miss two more weeks of basketball because of football injuries suffered in the Stroudsburg-East Streudsburg tussle on Thanksgiving Day. The good part of the Stroudsburg picture right now is the play of Byron "Chick Miller, high scoring forward, who appears on his way to the best season since he started thinking seriously about basketball. Cap tain Al Adelmann doesn't seem t have lost any of the skill that has featured his play in the past and will be a major figure in the futur of the Mountaineers this season.

Weingartner, Bailey, Byron Miller and Adelmann, with Benny Miller and Don Garaventi dividing the fifth spot should combine to give Stroudsburg a trouble making team once the Lehigh Valley League swings its guns into position for serious battle. However, if either or both of the Stroudsburg or East Stroudsburg basketball squads are going to enjoy any measure of success this season, it's entirely up to the players.

The University of Indiana is the Yatest college to show interest in John "Juice" Arnst, big tackle who played such an important part in East Stroudsburg High winning eight of nine football games during the season just completed. Wil son Borough High school has six lettermen returning from last season's basketball team. This Lehigh-Northampton League entry is coached by Eddie Snyder, who played baseball with the Stroudsburg Poconos, in the North Atlantie League, and East Bangor, in the Blue Mountain League.

County's affiliation with the mental health clinic may prove one of the most valuable of its many

They are convinced, also, that the problems with which the clinic deals are vastly important prob lems, the solution to which may well mean the difference between happiness and disaster for some children later in life.

This conviction is evidenced in the spirit with which the directors discuss their work-although any of the five would be the first to idmit that, many times, the cause of mental health is far harder to idvance than comparable physical realth programs.

As Mrs. Kathleen Butz summed t up at a recent meeting; "All moneer work is discouraging . .

Bangor People To Air Rent Control Issue

Bangor-A town meeting Monday night, the first of such assem blages held in this borough in many years, is expected to decide the public's sentiment toward rent control and will govern action by the Borough Council,

Council called the meeting at its session early this month when it was learned of indignation by some property owners over the controls which became effective Nov. 9. The meeting, slated for 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium, is expected to guide borough fathers in their decision to request decontrol of the borough, or continue under the emergency rent control program in effect in the Lehigh Val-

Landlords are required to register their property at the Bethlehem Rent Control office on or before Dec. 22 and it was learned many already have taken those steps.

George B. Plush Sr., councilman and former president of the Easton Realty Board, explained to councilmen that the present order does not mean a rollback of rents to the 1950 date, when the area was decontrolled. The rates are based on rents collected as of August 1

The voluntary measures effects all citizens and boroughs in the Lehigh Valley, which includes Northampton and Lehigh countie

As often happens, a businessman wants a quick word with an associate. Even though his office may be just down the hall, it's instinctive to reach for the telephone. Day in and day out, the telephone is there when you want it. You take it for granted as part of modern life.

That's the way we want it to be. And because it is that way, telephone people feel they're doing the job you expect them to do.

Funds To Be Allocated For Civil Defense

to political subdivisions within the Commonwealth for the purchase of Civil Defense supplies and equipment during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1952, according to an announcement made yes erday by Dr. Richard Gerstell, State Civil ! Defense director.

The funds have been allocated under the provisions of the matching fund program which provides that Federal contributions for Civil Defense equipment may not exceed 50 per cent of the total acquisition cost.

Full instructions outlining the processes to be employed in obtaining funds are contained in a Federal Civil Defense Administration manual which is being sent to county defense directors throughout the State for distribution to local political subdivisions.

In making the figure allocated to the Commonwealth by the Federal Government Gerstell pointed steps could be taken to process re- no avail. The other two children were unhurt.

"The only material so far furnished us," Gerstell commented, "are the manuals which are priced at $1 per copy, and which we are furnishing gratis to our directors to enable them to anticipate their requirements at a time when budgetary programs are being drawn

"It is beginning to look as if last year's famed formless debacle is about to be reenacted and many communities will be without the equipment they might have obained had forms been received and filed within the prescribed period," Gerstell added.

Deploring the delay and confusion that must necessarily follow the failure of the Federal Government to supply forms, Gerstell emphasized that the State could do nothing to facilitate procurement of founds until the forms had been properly accomplished and cleared through the State Council.

Problems That Face NATO Are Not Military

By J. M. Roberts Jr.

Secretary Acheson referred Wednesday to the lack of budget estimates from members as pre cluding definite planning for 1953 at next week's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organiza-

This barely skirts the edges of the trouble area,

For one thing, the Europeans can't make definite promises of what they will do until they know just what the U.S. will do for them, and Acheson and Lovett will be speaking next week for a lame duck administration,

For another thing, there is a lot of bargaining going on.

Britain has met her military situation forthrightly if unhappily with a cutback in a program which she says she can no longer support.

France, however, holds the real key to the situation. She is baffled by lack of capital for arms production, demanding more from the United States, and is in the throes of a difficult decision over the European Defense Community Treaty which provides for rearmament of Germany within a united European army.

France is not prepared to go forward with out a better-thanparity relationship between herself and Germany in Europe, yet is stretched out by the drains of the Indochina war. She wants more direct U. S. help there, too, and has slyly reminded American diplomats that help in Indochina would make it easier for her to go through with EDC.

Thus the most pressing problems interfering with NATO development are economic and political rather than military.

Little things, too, have their effect on the attitudes of the men trying to make the deals. As the military men of NATO met preliminary to the full session, they were trying to work out a compromise on the Mediterranean command situation, which has been a nettle under Anglo-American skins for a couple of years.

Comdr. Mountbatten was being | would be accomplished.

Britain contributed a mine layer, some submarines and some planes from Maita. The rest of the British fleet stuck to its routine business and Mountbatten left his Malta headquarters to go to Rome for a visit with the Pope and with his

In other words, the British refused to play until they are granted the NATO command they claim is their due as the result of their traditional position in the Mediterranean, regardless of the fact that the U. S. fleet is now overwhelm ingly the largest there. The U. S. wouldn't care much except for one thing. U. S. Naval men don't trust British concepts of aircraft carrier warfare, upon which Mediterranean planning puts considerable stress. But it's the type of thing that goes on in the NATO background, a fret to those who must handle the larger and truly formidable problems.

The command question has now reached the level of government heads, primarily involving the President of the United States. It begins to look as though the big problems might take the same course. This might sound like a defeat for the ministers who have been working on NATO. But after all, it would not be too bad to bring in, more directly, the experience of Eisenhower and Churchill.

U. S. Demands Reds Return Downed Plane

States yesterday demanded that Russia return an American cargo plane which Red fighters forced down in Communist Hungary last if Soviets could not return the plane and its cargo promptly, th U.S. would settle for total value figured at $98,779.29, plus 6 per The plane and its equipment alone was valued at $96,436.40, and the cargo at $2,342.89.

Another note delivered in Buda pest at the same time called on Hungary to supply full information about the detention and fining of investigation, was described by the State Department as a preliminary legal action. If Russia and Hungary reject or ignore the demands, the United States could start action in the International Court.
